ORDER ON MOTION TO RECONSIDER JUDGMENT

The parties have filed a Motion to Reconsider Judgment in the above-captioned case and have correctly pointed out that with respect to certain of the attorney's fees, the Court had indicated and in fact had intended to limit the finality of its Judgment to those sums of money which have previously been determined as final under applicable Florida law. Inasmuch as a portion of the attorney's fees are still the subject of an appeal in the Courts in the State of Florida the Judgment in this case filed May 24, 1991, is amended to read as follows:

The debtor's obligation as now existing or hereafter determined under applicable state law to his former wife, Jacqueline D. Armentrout, for attorney's fees arising out of the parties' divorce is determined non-dischargeable. That Plaintiff, Carolyn S. Zisser, recover of the Defendant, Okey David Armentrout, the principal sum of $3,000.00, together with interest at the rate of 6.07% from date until paid in full, together with such sums as may hereafter be awarded pursuant to any final judgment of the Courts of the State of Florida.
