ORDER ON DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Defendant in the above-captioned adversary proceeding has filed a Motion to Reconsider the Court's order denying Defendant's Motion for Extension of Time for Filing Motion for Summary Judgment and Response Thereto. The time within which to conduct discovery expired on April 1, 1994. Any motion for summary judgment should have been filed within twenty (20) days following that date.

Defendant's motion is based on the affidavit of Mr. Harvey S. Mars, counsel for Defendant, as to certain unfortunate personal circumstances which made it difficult for him to attend to the matter of considering the documents produced in the course of discovery and prepare a summary judgment motion in timely fashion. The Court regrets the personal circumstances detailed in Mr. Mars' affidavit and proposes to deviate from the strict application of the local rule so as to allow additional time for the filing of the summary judgment motion.

The trial of both of these adversary proceedings is set for June 7, 1994. On that date, the Court will conduct either a trial of this case or a status conference. In either event, the Court will expect counsel for the Plaintiff and the Defendant, including Mr. Mars, to appear in person in connection with whichever matter appears to be appropriate for disposition on that date.

The Court's local rules allow twenty (20) days for the Plaintiff to respond to the motion for summary judgment. If the motion were filed on June 1, 1994, the last possible date for the filing of the motion pursuant to this order, the Plaintiff would be permitted to file a response on or before June 21, 1994. It does not appear at this time that the Court would need to extend the deadline for the Plaintiff to reply to the motion for summary judgment. It does appear that the Court would need to consider whether the trial of this case should be postponed to permit the Court to consider the motion for summary judgment, if one is filed, and the reply, if any.

After June 1, 1994, the Court will consider a request from either party to convert the trial date of June 7, 1994 into a status conference. If such a request should be made and granted, appearances for all counsel will be required as specified above.

Now, therefore it is hereby ORDERED that the Defendant shall be permitted a period of twenty (20) days from today's date to file a motion for summary judgment in either or both of the above-captioned adversary proceedings. In all other respects, the Court's previous orders as to scheduling in this case and the local rules for the Southern District of Georgia shall apply unless and until amended by further order of this Court.

SO ORDERED this 12th day of May, 1994.
